UA RECRUITER AT SHELTON STATE

Rosalyn Griffin from the University of Alabama will be recruiting at Shelton on Tuesday, April 3, from 8 a.m. - 11 a.m. Any student interested in attending the University should make plans to talk to Ms. Griffin.

SHELTON REPRESENTED AT WRITING CONFERENCE

Carole Johnson, creative writing instructor, and Henry Rosebush, creative writing student, attended the Writing Today conference at Birmingham-Southern College. Featured speakers were Erskine Caldwell, Nora Ephron, and Jesse Hill Ford. Ms. Johnson and Mr. Rosebush were able to confer with these well-known writers and others on such topics as "The South as Setting," and "How to Survive the First Novel" and "Turning Fiction into Film."

WRITING LAB OPEN

The Writing Lab is open. Its hours are: Monday, 7:45 a.m. - 2 p.m., and 5 - 8 p.m.; Tuesday, 7:45 - 1 p.m., and 5 - 7 p.m.; Wednesday, 7:45 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.; Thursday, 7:45 a.m. - 1 p.m.; and Friday, 7:45 a.m. - 12 noon. Please use our lab to help with any writing questions. The lab can help solve any problem from one of simple punctuation to a review to researching a major term paper in any field including history and nursing.

The Term Paper Workshop will be held Sunday, April 8, from 2-5 p.m. All Shelton students who are writing term papers are invited to attend. The workshop will be staffed by the Shelton English faculty and librarians. For more information, please see Sharon Deck, chairman of the Humanities Division.

ADN GRADUATES ADVANCE TO REGISTERED NURSES

All of the first year graduates of Shelton State's Associate Degree in Nursing program have taken and passed the National Council Licensure Exam for registered nurses, according to Dr. Leo Sumner, Shelton president.

This, according to Sumner, was the first group of students to enter this program when it was initiated at the college in 1982. The ADN program is a career mobility program designed for licensed practical nurses who have practiced for at least one year. Any LPN who meets these requirements as well as completing several pre-requisites along with scoring 75 or better on each of three Challenge Exams may complete the 12-month course and progress to registered nurse.

PHI THETA KAPPA BOOK SALE

Phi Theta Kappa book sale: Students who have not picked up their books and/or checks should do so as soon as possible. Contact Mrs. Kuykendall in her office behind the chemistry labs.

HAVE FUN AT THE FOLK FESTIVAL

FORMER WALKER COUNTY JUDGE TO EXHIBIT AT SHELTON

Former Walker County Probate Judge Lecil Gray will exhibit his paintings during the Shelton State Folk Festival, Tuesday, April 3, beginning at 11 a.m. at the Junior College.

Gray, who served 14 years as probate judge of Walker County, is currently retired and serves as consultant to New Southland Life Insurance Company. He is founder, and has served as chairman, chief executive officer, and president of the company.

Gray's paintings are of rural scenes in Walker County including some of the oldest homes in the county.

DON'T FORGET THE FOLK FESTIVAL IS TUESDAY, APRIL 3. This is the time of the year when we celebrate our heritage. The fun begins at 11 a.m. and continues through 6:30 p.m. in the evening.

Ernie Wood of SOUTHERN LIVING magazine will be the keynote speaker. Wood will speak on "What's Southern About Preservation" at 2 p.m. in the auditorium. At 1:30 p.m. Earl Drennan of Manna Grocery will discuss "The Use of Medicinal Herbs and Vegetables in the past." At 6:30 p.m. Temo Callahan and friends will play bluegrass music.

Exhibitors include mud painter Jimmy Lee Sudduth of Fayette, Michiko Reed, paper art; John Puryear, basket weaving. There will be an exhibit of books by local authors and a historical exhibit by residents of the Samantha and West Blocton area. The Tuscaloosa Hooking Club will also have an exhibit as well at other local craftsmen from the West Alabama area.

Hot dogs, cokes, pop corn will be on sale. A barbecue luncheon is planned for faculty/staff as well exhibitors and special guests.

JOHNSON TO REPRESENT SHELTON STATE

Shelton State sophomore Sherry Jo Johnson will be the college's representative in the "Most Outstanding Student" contest at the annual Alabama Junior and Community College convention which will be held in Mobile this week. She will compete with other students from two-year institutions in the state. The students will be judged on their scholastic achievements and their service to the school. The winning candidate will receive a $150 junior/community scholarship; two runners-up will receive $75 scholarships.

FROM THE FIRE COLLEGE

The Alabama State Fire College recently completed the 34th Annual Motor Fleet Supervisor Workshop which was held at the Fire College in Tuscaloosa. Nineteen participants from Texas, Mississippi, Florida, Georgia as well as Alabama attended. Putting on the school was the National Committee for Motor Fleet Supervision Training from Penn State University. Fran Wallace, safety consultant, was the keynote speaker at the Wednesday meeting.

The Advanced Pump Operator School will be held at the Fire College April 10-13.

LIVINGSTON AND ATHENS COLLEGE RECRUITERS TO VISIT SHELTON

A representative from Livingston University will be at Shelton State on April 11 from 9 a.m. - 12 noon. A representative from Athens College on April 19 from 9 a.m. - 12 noon. If you are interested in attending either of the institutions, make your plans accordingly.
